

A CATALOGUE OF BOOKS

published by

GEOFFREY BLES

SUFFOLK ST. PALL MALL, LONDON, S.W.1

A CATALOGUE OF BOOKS
P U B L I S H E D B Y
GEOFFREY BLES

AT 22 SUFFOLK STREET

PALL MALL, LONDON

[REVISED UP TO DECEMBER 1929]

WAREHOUSE: GREENER HOUSE, HAYMARKET, S.W.1.

TELEPHONE: ★ GERRARD 3868

TELEGRAMS: ASTRAPETO, PICCY, LONDON

CABLES: ASTRAPETO, LONDON

A CATALOGUE OF BOOKS
INDEX
BY G. E. BELFREY

	PAGE
FINE ART BOOKS AND LIMITED EDITIONS	3
BELLES-LETTRES, ETC.	5
SCIENTIFIC, ETC.	7
THE LIFE AND WORK SERIES	8
HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHY	9
TRAVEL BOOKS	11
SPORTS AND GAMES	16
CRIMINOLOGY	17
THE FAMOUS TRIALS SERIES	19
THE PALL MALL SERIES	21
FICTION	22

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

(Revised up to December, 1929)

Fine Arts

ADAMS-ACTON. Domestic Architecture and Old Furniture

By MURRAY ADAMS-ACTON, F.S.A., F.I.B.D. With two hundred illustrations. Royal 4to. £2 2s. net.

The author is one of the leading experts in Decoration and Old Furniture, and in this book, illustrated with two hundred beautiful illustrations, he deals with fifteen of the best periods of domestic architecture and ébénisterie. Beginning with English Gothic and its transition, he reviews phases of French, Dutch, Flemish and Italian decorative architecture and works of art, and the styles of Adam, Chippendale and Sheraton, recording for the first time many magnificent examples which will be of considerable interest to connoisseurs and collectors. A chapter is devoted to spurious furniture, and the signs of faking are carefully illustrated and described.

The Illustrated London News.—‘This large and lavishly illustrated volume . . . provides abundant material for preserving good taste.’

BLES. Rare English Glasses of the XVII and XVIII Centuries

By JOSEPH BLES. With over one hundred plates of illustrations. Royal 4to. £5 5s. net. Also an Edition de Luxe, with extra coloured plates, limited to one hundred copies, each copy numbered and signed by the author. £7 7s. net.

Sir John Shuckburgh Risley, K.C.M.G., contributes an article on commemorative glasses, and the Introduction is written by Mr. Bernard Rackham, Keeper of the Department of Ceramics in the Victoria and Albert Museum. The illustrations are reproduced from photographs specially taken by expert photographers.

The Connoisseur.—‘. . . To the advanced collector this sumptuous book will form an invaluable guide.’

BLUNT. The Cheyne Book of Chelsea China and Pottery

Edited by REGINALD BLUNT. With fifty-six collotype illustrations. Crown 4to. 25s. net.

This book commémorates the important Exhibition of Chelsea China held at Chelsea Town Hall. The illustrations comprise reproductions of all the most important exhibits, and add much to the value of a book which will be prized by all lovers of china, porcelain and pottery.

GEOFFREY BLESS'S CATALOGUE

LONG. A History of British Miniatures

By BASIL LONG (of the Victoria and Albert Museum, South Kensington). Royal 4to. Illustrated with coloured frontispiece and over one hundred and fifty illustrations in monochrome. £5 5s. net.

This is the first authoritative and comprehensive book on this subject. It gives a history of the art of miniature painting in this country and a complete list of all British miniaturists, with the salient facts known about their careers, and remarks about their respective technique and signatures. It is, therefore, a valuable work of reference for all Public Libraries, Art Galleries, and Museums, as well as for Art Dealers and private collectors.

POLLARD. A History of Firearms

By MAJOR H. B. C. POLLARD. Illustrated. Crown 4to. £2 2s. net.

This book, written by a recognised authority and an adviser to the War Office, is fully illustrated with reproductions (in collotype and half-tone) of beautiful and interesting pieces, and contains an exhaustive list of makers' marks.

The Morning Post.—‘Indispensable to everyone interested in this many-sided subject.’

RACKHAM. Early Netherlands Majolica

By BERNARD RACKHAM, Keeper of the Department of Ceramics in the Victoria and Albert Museum. Illustrated. Demy 4to. £3 3s. net.

Also an Edition de Luxe on large paper (Royal Quarto), and bound in three-quarters morocco leather. Limited to fifty copies, each copy numbered and signed by the author. £5 5s. net.

The discovery at The Vyne (the historical Hampshire mansion built by Lord Sandys in Tudor times) of a large series of painted floor-tiles, which the author proves to be of Netherlandish origin, has provided a point de départ for a complete history of the majolica of the Low Countries.

The Observer.—‘An admirable piece of research, which, by virtue of its high and disinterested scholarship, will redound to our national credit. . . . The book is beautifully printed and illustrated.’

BOOKS ILLUSTRATED BY JOHN AUSTEN.

Daphnis & Chloe

Translated from the Greek of LONGOS by GEORGE THORNLEY. A very beautiful edition of this famous classic. With twelve colour illustrations and numerous decorations by JOHN AUSTEN. Crown 4to. 25s. net.

Manon Lescaut

From the French of L'Abbé Prévost. With an Introduction by J. LEWIS MAY, and decorations in colour and line by JOHN AUSTEN. Royal 4to., half vellum gilt. Limited to five hundred copies. £3 3s. net.

An edition de luxe of this famous classic which is now presented in its original and unexpurgated form. The illustrations by John Austen are exquisite examples of this well-known artist's work.

*Belles Lettres, Music, etc.BAERLEIN. Heine: The Strange Guest

By HENRY BAERLEIN. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 12s. 6d.

In this admirably discursive biography Heine is portrayed as the youthful idolater of Napoleon; in London ('nothing but fogs, frost and Canning'); and in Paris—the brilliant conversations with Balzac, Meyerbeer and Eugène Sue, and the long agony of the mattress grave.

MR. ARNOLD PALMER in The Sphere.—'It is lively and exciting throughout, and it shows the distinction which is the mark of all Mr. Baerlein's work. . . A very enjoyable book.'

BERNHARDT. The Art of the Theatre

By SARAH BERNHARDT. 7s. 6d. net.

The great actress deals with each branch of the dramatic art, and illustrates her points with delightful reminiscences.

MR. JAMES AGATE in The Sunday Times.—'I hope that every actor will study this book.'

ČAPEK. Letters from England

By KAREL ČAPEK. With illustrations by the author. (8th edition.) 3s. 6d. net. Also purple leather gilt. 10s. 6d. net.

The Observer.—'This is a delightful book.'

Punch.—'. . . The best book written about our race since the Germania of Tacitus.'

How a Play is Produced

By KAREL ČAPEK. Illustrated. Crown 8vo. 6s. net.

The famous author of 'Letters from England' and 'R.U.R.' initiates his readers into the esoteric mysteries of theatrical life. The quaint illustrations in the book are by Joseph Capek.

The Observer.—'The book is not only full of instruction for the Dramatist, but full of entertainment for the general reader.'

EDYE. Mainly about Women

By ALFRED EDYE. 3s. 6d. net.

The author, though a mere man, is something of an expert on the ways of the Fair Sex.

FAWCETT (L'Estrange). Films: Facts and Forecasts

By L'ESTRANGE FAWCETT. With a Foreword by CHARLES CHAPLIN. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 21s. net.

The author, who is the Dramatic and Film critic of The Morning Post, has studied the problems of 'This Film Business' at Los Angeles, in New York, and in Berlin. The book is illustrated with forty excellent photographs.

ST. JOHN ERVINE in The Observer.—'A very informative book.'

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

GORMAN. James Joyce

By HERBERT S. GORMAN. Illustrated. 7s. 6d. net.

The first book to appear on the author of 'Ulysses'—a work which, very properly prohibited, is very studiously read. Mr. Gorman's book gives an insight into the aims and methods of this writer.

Truth.—'An exceedingly interesting work of literary criticism.'

H—T—R.— Brighter French (For Bright Young People)

By H. T. R. Illustrated. (7th Edition.) 5s. net.

This book may come as a surprise to those who identify the learning of French with the painful acquisition of inept information about 'the gardener' and 'the gardener's wife'; but it is intended for those Bright Young People who realise that their French, laboriously acquired at school, 'won't quite do,' and are ready to welcome a method of learning French as it is actually spoken by up-to-date Parisians.

John o' London's Weekly.—'A most delightful, amusing and helpful book. . . . One's only fear is that a complete absorption of its contents might result in the "Bright Young People (who already know some)" knowing a trifle too much!'

The Brighter French Word Book

By H. T. R. Illustrated. (2nd Edition.) 5s. net.

This book is a happy companion to 'Brighter French,' and the author continues his loving service to the Bright Young People by providing them with full and up-to-date vocabularies on all subjects likely to claim their serious attention—such as Motoring, Race-going, the Theatre, the Bourse, Restaurants, Dancing, 'Le Sport,' et cetera, et cetera.

Truth.—'It is a book unique of its kind, and if anyone who has occasion to speak French is content to do without it, he is either a perfect French scholar—or else very conceited.'

KERST. Mozart: The man and the artist revealed in his own words

Compiled by FRIEDRICH KERST. 5s. net.

The unique personality of Mozart is delightfully revealed in this selection from his own writings, which show his filial devotion, his joyous love-making and his unwavering devotion to his Art.

LANDOWSKA. Music of the Past

By WANDA LANDOWSKA. Illustrated. 7s. 6d. net.

This book deals mainly with the music of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries—with Bach, Palestrina, Lully, Couperin, Rameau, and others. It is illustrated with delightful pictures of old clavichords and spinets.

Times Literary Supplement.—'An attractively personal book, sensitive and witty, scholarly and charming.'

POUND. Illustrated History

By REGINALD POUND. With an Introduction by LORD GORELL. 3s. 6d. net.

The author presents the principal characters and events of English history in a manner that cannot fail to grip the attention of children—and 'grown-ups.'

WILLIAMS-ELLIS. England and the Octopus

By CLOUGH WILLIAMS-ELLIS. Illustrated. (2nd Edition.) 5s. net.

Mr. Williams-Ellis grapples with the octopus of 'villadom,' which spreads disfigurement over England's countryside. He analyses the distempers of the time and suggests the remedy.

BELLES LETTRES, MUSIC. SCIENTIFIC

MR. G. K. CHESTERTON writes: 'No more valuable warning has been uttered in our time than that expressed in the terms—and in the title—"England and the Octopus."'

The Spectator.—'A book of quite exceptional immediate importance.'

WOODWARD. An Arcadian Calendar

By MARCUS WOODWARD. Illustrated by ALDO COSOMATI. 6s. net.

A charmingly illustrated Nature calendar, written by 'the most delightful of living writers in the Jefferies tradition' (The Morning Post).

The Spectator.—'... A charming collection of essays.'

John o' London's Weekly.—'... Should be on the shelf of every country-lover pent in town.'

Country Contentments

By MARCUS WOODWARD. Illustrated by GWEN EVANS. 6s. net.

Lovers of Nature will appreciate these delightful visions of green days in forests and blue days at sea.

Isis.—'... There can be only one opinion about this book; in subject, treatment, illustrations, print and binding it is perfection. To everyone who loves the country, such pages as these are a treasury of delight.'

Near London

By MARCUS WOODWARD. Pall Mall Series. 2s. 6d. net.

A charming guide to London's picturesque suburbs such as Twickenham, Kew, etc., giving their historical and literary associations.

Week-End Walks Round London

By MARCUS WOODWARD. Pall Mall Series. 2s. 6d. net.

A fund of information about London's lovely countryside.

The Woodcraft Trail

By MARCUS WOODWARD. Pall Mall Series. 2s. 6d. net.

A delightful Nature Book for Girl Guides, Brownies—and 'grown-ups.'

Scientific, etc.

GLASGOW. General Strikes and Road Transport

By GEORGE GLASGOW. With an Introduction by the Rt. Hon. D. LLOYD GEORGE, O.M. Illustrated with maps, etc. 5s. net.

An authoritative account of the organization—hitherto secret—by which the Government overcame the General Strike.

MONKSWELL. The Railways of Great Britain

By LORD MONKSWELL. Illustrated. (New and Revised Edn.) 12s. 6d. net.

This book contains a full description of the railway system and administration of this country, and is illustrated by numerous photographs, maps and diagrams.

The Daily Telegraph.—'A standard work.'

ROUELLE. Steel

By COLONEL ROUELLE. Translated by ALFRED CHAPPLER, M.A., B.Sc. With Diagrams. 5s. net.

Cast Iron

By COLONEL ROUELLE. Translated by ALFRED CHAPPLER, M.A., B.Sc. With Diagrams. 5s. net.

These books are invaluable to the student of metallurgy.

SCOTT. The Abrams Treatment in Practice

By G. LAUGHTON SCOTT, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P. With Diagrams. 5s. net.
The author throws an entirely new light on this medical theory.

TILANUS. Surgery a hundred years ago

By Professor C. B. TILANUS. Translated by JOSEPH BLES. Illustrated. 6s. net.

This collection of letters, written during a tour made by three young Dutch doctors in the beginning of the nineteenth century, describes operations performed by great Continental surgeons, such as Dupuytren and Larrey—before the use of anaesthetics and antiseptics.

The Daily Mail.—‘This curious and interesting book.’

Life and Work Series

LIFE AND WORK SERIES.

Each volume, dark green cloth gilt, coloured top, 5s. net.

In this Series leading men and women in each profession will write about their own work—its problems, its difficulties and its pleasures—in their own way and in the light of their own experience. It is hoped that these books will be of interest to fellow-members of these professions and of help to those who are about to choose, or commence, their life's work.

1. The Army. By LIEUT.-GENERAL SIR GEORGE MACMUNN, K.C.B., K.C.S.I.
2. Architecture. By CLOUGH WILLIAMS-ELLIS, author of ‘England and the Octopus.’
3. The Bar. By SIR HAROLD MORRIS, K.C.
4. Nursing. By MISS M. S. COCHRANE, R.R.C., Matron of Charing Cross Hospital.
5. Play Production. By BASIL DEAN.
6. The Stage. By LENA ASHWEll.
7. The Surgeon. By C. JENNINGS MARSHALL, F.R.C.S., M.S.

(Other volumes in preparation. Please send for descriptive list of the Series.)

*History, Biography, etc.BURNS. *Billy the Kid

By WALTER NOBLE BURNS. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 10s. 6d. net.
 The title of this book suggests a familiar type of fiction ; but this account of Billy the Kid, the Boy Desperado, happens to be historically true. The book is fully illustrated with photographs. The Daily Express reviewer was 'profoundly attracted' by 'Billy the Kid' because 'it beats the Wild West Novelists at their own game—and is about a real historical person.'

Tombstone

By WALTER NOBLE BURNS. Demy 8vo. 10s. 6d. net.

The historian of 'Billy the Kid' (most picturesque of outlaws) here depicts the turbulent life in Tombstone, Arizona, during the silver-mining boom, and such worthies as the deadly Earp brothers, 'cold-eyed' Doc Holliday, and queer little 'Johnny-behind-the-deuce.'

Truth.—'A genuine "thriller" from real life which shows that truth can not only be stronger than fiction—but also more exciting.'

CONAN DOYLE. The British Campaigns in Europe, 1914-1918

By SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE. With 44 Maps and Diagrams. 10s. 6d. net.

A new and enlarged edition, in one volume of 1,024 pages, of a history 'which will find a permanent place as a reliable work of reference for students' (The Observer). For the present edition the work has been thoroughly revised by the author, who has included the campaigns in Italy and Salonica.

Truth.—'This is history recorded by a master of romance who is also an accurate historian.'

SIR WILLIAM ROBERTSON-NICOLL.—'A classic that will never be superseded.'

CROWTHER. John H. Patterson

By SAMUEL CROWTHER. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 10s. 6d. net.

Mr. Patterson, the founder of the National Cash Register Company, started operations at the somewhat mature age of forty, with very little experience of manufacturing or finance, but with one great asset—a perfect genius for selling his goods to the public.

LORD RIDDELL gave to this book a six-column review in John o' London's Weekly.

CURTIS BROWN. Anne Stuart, Queen of England

By BEATRICE CURTIS BROWN. Illustrated. 10s. 6d. net.

For two centuries we have dismissed Queen Anne as 'Dull,' 'Good' and 'Dead.' Yet this 'dull, good' woman grew up among the gay spirits of the Restoration Court, fell in love with one of its gallants, betrayed her father, and plotted against her sister.

JOHN DRINKWATER says in The Daily Telegraph.—'A charmingly contrived character study.'

ROBERT LYND in The Daily News.—'A remarkably interesting book.'

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

GLASGOW. Continental Statesmen

By GEORGE GLASGOW. Illustrated. 10s. 6d. net.

Mr. George Glasgow, the Foreign Editor of The Contemporary Review, here deals with the leading statesmen of France, Germany, Italy, the Balkans, Russia, etc. As Mr. Glasgow knows most of these statesmen personally, he is able to give intimate and vivid sketches of celebrities who to the ordinary newspaper reader are mere names.

HALÉVY. Vauban: Builder of Fortresses

By DANIEL HALÉVY. Translated with Notes by MAJOR STREET, O.B.E., M.C. Frontispiece illustration. Medium 8vo. 6s. net.

A brilliant study of a great soldier and the reign of Louis XIV.

J. C. S. in a two-column review in The Observer.—‘ . . . A picture made with admirable art of a very great and lovable man.’

PHILIP GUEDALLA in The Daily News.—‘ A brilliant study.’

HERBEN. Huss and his Followers

By DR. JAN HERBEN. With Introduction by the REV. DR. FRANK KNIGHT, D.D. Illustrated. Wide crown 8vo. 7s. 6d. net.

The author, a distinguished Continental scholar, traces the course of the Reformation in Bohemia, and shows how it was influenced by Wyclif and other English teachers.

KEROUBEC. Memoirs of the Marquise de Keroubec

Illustrated. Crown 8vo. 7s. 6d. net.

These curious memoirs throw a new light on life in France during the Revolution and Napoleonic times. They are illustrated with reproductions of old prints.

John o' London's Weekly.—‘ Charming, but naughty.’

KOROSTOWETZ. The Re-birth of Poland

By DR. W. K. KOROSTOWETZ. Illustrated. 10s. 6d. net.

An account of post-war conditions in one of the most interesting—and troubous—of European States, by one who had special opportunities for observing men and events.

LEWIS MAY. Cardinal Newman

By J. LEWIS MAY. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 10s. 6d. net.

Mr. Lewis May, who is well known as the translator of Anatole France, has written a very interesting and sympathetic biography of one of the greatest figures of the Victorian age.

PIERREFEU. French Headquarters, 1915-1918

By JEAN DE PIERREFEU. Translated by MAJOR C. J. C. STREET, O.B.E., M.C. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 10s. 6d. net.

The author was the official eye-witness at the French General Headquarters throughout practically the whole period of the war.

The Morning Post.—‘ . . . A most life-like picture of the French Headquarters.’

HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY. TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE

SEITZ. Joseph Pulitzer

By DON C. SEITZ. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

A biography of that tempestuous journalist who landed in New York as a penniless lad and became one of the greatest newspaper proprietors in the world.

In a three-column review of this book in The Sunday Express, R. D. B., calls it:—‘ . . . A story fascinating in the extreme of a life of energy, enterprise, initiative, enthusiasm, golden success—and tragedy.’

STREET. Lord Reading

By C. J. C. STREET, O.B.E., M.C. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 10s. 6d. net.

An account of one of the most remarkable careers of modern times. The book relates Lord Reading’s early triumphs at the Bar, his successful Parliamentary career, his tenure of high legal office as Attorney-General and Lord Chief Justice, his special Mission to the United States during the war, and his great services to the State as Viceroy of India.

The Observer.—‘The book is justified by its theme.’

THIÉRY (Maurice). Captain Cook: His Life and Voyages

By MAURICE THIÉRY. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 15s. net.

A most interesting biography of the great circumnavigator. It is written with admiration for the heroic personality of Captain Cook and with an acute appreciation of humorous situations.

VULLIAMY. From the Red Archives (Russian State Papers, 1914-1918)

Selected and edited by C. E. VULLIAMY. Translated by A. L. HYNES. With an Introduction by Dr. C. C. HAGBERG WRIGHT. Illustrated. 16s. net.

This is a selection from the secret State Papers of the Russian Government, now published for the first time. It contains reports by the Secret Police on the activities, public and private, of Rasputin; a plan for the assassination of the Kaiser, which received the attention of high government officials; correspondence of the Youssopov family; documents relating to the Archangel Expedition; the mutinies in the Fleet and in the Army; etc., etc.

Travel and Adventure

DELL. Isles of Greece

By ANTHONY DELL. Illustrated. Crown 4to. 30s. net.

A very beautiful book describing the picturesque islands of the Greek Archipelago. It is illustrated with photographs of real artistic charm.

Sunday Times.—‘ . . . Illustrated with pictures of extraordinary beauty.’

Llama Land. Peru and Its People

By ANTHONY DELL. Illustrated. Crown 4to. 30s. net.

A fascinating account of Peru, the country and its historic past, illustrated with many beautiful photographs.

Times Literary Supplement.—‘ . . . Illustrated generously with really beautiful photographs.’

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

DIXON. From Melbourne to Moscow

By G. C. DIXON. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

This book deals with many interesting places and many interesting personalities, including Sun Yat Sen, Chang Tso-Lin (the Chinese generalissimo and incidentally a tiny dwarf), and Isadora Duncan.

Sunday Times.—‘... An extremely interesting and very informative book.’

HAARDT & DUBREUIL. The Black Journey

By G. M. HAARDT and L. A. DUBREUIL. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

A wonderful account of the Citroën expedition through the heart of Africa. Cannibals, pygmies, dancing-girls and strange beasts feræ naturæ lie in wait for the reader on almost every page. The book is illustrated with remarkable photographs and maps.

John o' London's Weekly.—‘A heroic tale, a modern Odyssey which holds the reader enthralled.’

HALLIBURTON. The Royal Road to Romance

By RICHARD HALLIBURTON. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

A young American sets out to see the world ‘on his own,’ and travels from New York to New York via Europe, India, China, Japan—and after some rather curious adventures.

Truth.—‘An immensely jolly book.’

The Bookman.—‘Emphatically a book to preserve for many re-readings.’

The Glorious Adventure

By RICHARD HALLIBURTON. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

The author describes his attempt to follow the wanderings of Ulysses in the Mediterranean—together with a few extra performances, such as swimming the Hellespont and running the Marathon.

The Spectator.—‘The book is a joy, and none but a man with the fine true instincts of a poet could have written it.’

HOLMES. Through Wildest Africa

By F. RATCLIFFE HOLMES. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 7s. 6d. net.

A book which will appeal to all who are interested in travel and sport. In his extensive tour through Central Africa, for the purpose of preparing the great film Kilimanjaro, the author studied at close quarters almost every species of Big Game.

The Illustrated London News.—‘... Exceptionally interesting.’

NEWMAN. The Middle East

By MAJOR E. W. POLSON NEWMAN. Illustrated. Royal 8vo. 25s. net.

The author has carefully studied at first hand the problems that beset Palestine, Iraq, and other countries of the Middle East, and in this finely illustrated book he presents his impressions and conclusions.

The Daily Telegraph.—‘An admirably lucid and readable book.’

TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE

POLLOCK. Paris and Parisians

By JOHN POLLOCK. Illustrated. 5s. net.

The author is the Paris Correspondent of The Morning Post and has an enviable knowledge of 'La Ville Lumière.' With the zest of the true boulevardier, he describes its cafés and their terrasses, the perils of Lutetian taxis, and certain other matters of interest to the student of social phenomena.

Truth.—'An extremely bright, amusing and informative little book.'

RAWLINGS. Old London

By GERTRUDE BURFORD RAWLINGS. Crown 4to. 10s. 6d. net.

A fascinating account of bygone London. Illustrated with fifty full-page reproductions of old prints.

The Morning Post.—'... An excellent book, which shows us how the various Londons have come and gone in the tragical comedy of England's essential life.'

RHYS WILLIAMS. The Russian Land

By A. RHYS WILLIAMS. Illustrated with Woodcuts. 7s. 6d. net.

M. Boris Sokilov, Director of the Central Museum of the Peoples of Russia, writes: 'There are plenty of "eye-witnesses" who conduct their observations from a railway train; but Rhys Williams is not one of these. Patiently, for five years he has been working in this huge laboratory of Russia, watching the formation of a new life, a new social order.'

The Manchester Guardian.—'More is to be learnt about Russia from such a book than from volumes of statistics.'

RICHARDSON. Brittany and the Loire

By LESLIE RICHARDSON. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

Further adventures of the Sylvabelle on the Breton coast and along France's greatest river.

Times Literary Supplement.—'Combines a capacity for appreciative surprise with the foresight of the organizer and the cultivated taste of the epicure.'

Motor Cruising in France

By LESLIE RICHARDSON. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

This delightful Travel Book relates the Odyssey of a small motor boat along the coast of Brittany and through France by canals to the Mediterranean.

The Daily News.—'... Cruises that fill the imagination with longing.'

The Riviera Coast

By LESLIE RICHARDSON. Illustrated. 16s. net.

The author of 'Motor Cruising in France' describes further adventures of the Sylvabelle along the Côte d'Azur, with its picturesque ports and fishing villages.

John o' London's Weekly.—'Not only yachtsmen will find it an invaluable guide.'

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

RIGGS. Spain: A Pageant

By ARTHUR STANLEY RIGGS. With many illustrations. Large demy 8vo. 18s. net.

A very interesting description of Spain, its majestic scenery and its historic cities, with their great cathedrals and picture galleries. The book has fine illustrations from photographs.

STANLEY & HODGSON. Elephant Hunting in West Africa

By CAPT. W. B. STANLEY, C.M.G., and COURtenay HODGSON. Many photograph illustrations. Demy 8vo. 18s. net.

A very interesting account of life and sport in the Gambia and in Sierra Leone by two well-known Big Game shots. Incidentally, Captain Stanley deserves the thanks of lovers of the Zoo for having presented to it 'Peter,' the baby elephant, which he captured in circumstances related in this book.

STREET. East of Prague. Impressions of Czechoslovakia

By C. J. C. STREET. With an Introduction by H. E. DR. MASTNÝ. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 10s. 6d. net.

A very interesting account of conditions in one of the most progressive of European states.

Truth.—'... Invaluable for all who want to get the hang of things in this new European State.'

STARR. Eve in Egypt

By JANE STARR. Illustrated. 10s. 6d. net.

A charming travel book, which details the delights of a holiday in Egypt in an original and amusing fashion.

TAYLOR. Where Cannibals Roam

By MERLIN MOORE TAYLOR. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 7s. 6d. net.

Mr. Taylor, having lived with cannibals in Papua, is fortunate in being able to relate his experiences.

The Morning Post.—'... A very lively narrative.'

VERNON. Sands, Palms and Minarets

By MADELEINE VERNON. Illustrated. 16s. net.

This delightful book is the result of the author's wanderings in Morocco, Algeria and Tunis.

T.P.'s Weekly.—'Will make the reader long for magical sunlit days.'

VILLIERS. Falmouth for Orders

By A. J. VILLIERS. Illustrated with fifty photographs. Crown 4to. 25s. net.

A first-hand account of the great race between two four-masted barques, Beatrice and Herzogin Cecilie, from Australia to London. The author was an A.B. in the latter ship, which rounded Cape Horn and beat Beatrice which sailed by the Cape of Good Hope.

The Observer.—'The breadth and the breath of wide oceans are in the book and in its pictures.'

The Morning Post.—'This delightful book.'

TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE

WILKINSON (W.) The Peep Show

By WALTER WILKINSON. Illustrated. Fcap 4to. 10s. 6d. net.

This fascinating book relates the wanderings in Somerset and Devon of a young artist, who sets out to make a living with a Puppet-Show.

Times Literary Supplement.—‘ . . . If Mr. Wilkinson handles his puppets as deftly as he handles his pen, we shall tramp a good many miles to see them.’

Liverpool Post.—‘ . . . As merry an artistic vagabondage as any ever set down in print.’

WILSTACH. Along the Pyrenees

By PAUL WILSTACH. Illustrated. 16s. net.

A beautifully illustrated travel book, describing the picturesque country round Biarritz, Pau, San Sebastian, Carcassonne, etc.

The Bystander.—‘ An excellent book.’

Islands of the Mediterranean

By PAUL WILSTACH. Illustrated. Royal 8vo. 16s. net.

A finely illustrated travel book, describing Majorca (the home of Chopin), Corsica, Elba, Sardinia, Sicily, Malta, Cyprus, etc., etc.

Sunday Times.—‘ Few travel books published in recent years can compete, either in fullness of interest or in literary charm, with this well-written and lavishly illustrated volume.’

WOODWARD. Near London

By MARCUS WOODWARD. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

A charming guide to London's picturesque suburbs, such as Twickenham, Kew, etc., giving their literary and historical associations.

The Morning Post.—‘ A charming series of talks about walks through the fascinating regions where London forgets herself into the English countryside.’

Week-end Walks Round London

By MARCUS WOODWARD. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

A fund of information about London's lovely countryside.

Church Times.—‘ . . . We are delighted to commend Mr. Marcus Woodward's excellent little volume . . . just the very thing for one in search of a handy pocket-guide to accompany him on his rambles through the wonderful countryside within easy reach of London.’

The Morning Post.—‘ Will be a revelation to Londoners who have not learnt how easy it is to lose London.’

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

Sport and Games

BOWMAN (W. Dodgson). Yachting and Yachtsmen

By W. DODGSON BOWMAN. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

A well-known authority on Yachting writes of its modern development and of famous yachtsmen . . .

The Morning Post.—‘Will interest every yachtsman, high or humble.’

CHURCHILL. How to Shoot

By R. CHURCHILL. New and Enlarged Edition with extra illustrations. 5s. net.

A new and revised edition of a book which should be studied by everyone who wishes to be a ‘good shot’.

The Referee.—‘I was astonished to find what a lot there is about shooting which Mr. Churchill knows—and I did not !’

CLIFFORD. Holiday Angling

By W. G. CLIFFORD. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

The author writes for those who ‘like a bit of fishing,’ when they can get it. He tells them how to get it—and how to catch fish.

Angling Jaunts and Jottings

By W. G. CLIFFORD. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

The author is one who ‘out of doors loves angling, and indoors loves books.’ Both these enthusiasms are combined in this fascinating little volume.

GLOSSOP. Woman be Beautiful!

By CAPTAIN C. GLOSSOP, M.C. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

The author is a well-known expert in physical culture, and in this book he shows how, by means of very simple exercises, girls can improve their appearance—and, incidentally, their health.

MANNING FOSTER & HERVEY. Auction Bridge Informatory Doubles

By A. E. MANNING FOSTER and G. F. HERVEY. 3s. 6d. net.

A full and detailed treatise on Informatory Doubles.

MEYER. Ps and Qs

By JEROME MEYER. (3rd Edition.) 5s. net.

An expert graphologist supplies a scientific and automatic method of telling characters from handwriting.

PRIOLEAU. Motoring for Women

By JOHN PRIOLEAU. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

This little book will tell her how to look after that car—and how to drive it.

TUISTE. The Pottleton Bridge Club

By HUGH TUISTE. Illustrated. 3s. 6d. net.

The author (who is not only a successful novelist, but also a successful Bridge Player) takes a typical gathering of suburban Bridge Fiends and relates their heroic contests in a style appropriate to the magnitude of his theme.

The Daily Mail.—‘Chock-full of sound instruction.’

SPORT AND GAMES. CRIMINOLOGY

Mrs. Pottleton's Bridge Parties

By HUGH TUITE. Illustrated. 3s. 6d. net.

The author of 'The Pottleton Bridge Club' has discovered further annals of Pottletonian Bridge contests.

The Observer.—'To learn the subtleties of the game from this book is as pleasant as learning French from Molière.'

Teaching Iris Auction Bridge

By HUGH TUITE. Illustrated. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

Iris could not play Bridge for minute apples—until she was taken in hand by the author of 'The Pottleton Bridge Club.' An amusing little book, full of sound instruction for the beginner.

Publishers' Circular.—'Sound instruction is given under the cloak of humour.'

Iris Plays Better Bridge

By HUGH TUITE. Illustrated. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

The publication of this little book is not unconnected with the remarkable success of its predecessor, 'Teaching Iris Auction Bridge.' Iris, having learnt the rudiments of the game, is now eager to learn its *finesse*s.

The Field.—'Easy to read and easy to understand. . . . Just the book to give as a Christmas present.'

Iris Learns Contract Bridge

By HUGH TUITE. Illustrated. (Pall Mall Series.) 2s. 6d. net.

Iris is young enough to 'move with the times,' and she now applies to the author of 'The Pottleton Bridge Club' for instruction in the latest development of the game.

DILNOT. Scotland Yard

By GEORGE DILNOT. (Revised and Enlarged Edition.) Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

An authoritative history of the London Police and Detective Force, with side-lights on its most famous cases, such as the case of Adolph Beck, the Crippen case, the Sidney Street battle, etc.

The Manchester Guardian.—'Well-planned, well-researched, well-written, and well-illustrated.'

Truth.—'Thoroughly comprehensive and as attractive as any reader could wish.'

Great Detectives

By GEORGE DILNOT. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

The author deals with many cases which exemplify great detective skill, e.g., the investigation into the murder of Marie Latelle; the preparation of the case against the 'Brides in the Bath' murderer, etc., etc.

The Glasgow Herald.—'The whole book is immensely interesting.'

Criminology

GEOFFREY BLESS'S CATALOGUE

Triumphs of Detection

By GEORGE DILNOT. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

Among these extraordinary examples of detective skill will be found the curious episode of The Empty Coffin; the strange clue of The Engraved Watch; the industrious career of Fred Jarvis, the master forger; and the grim vengeance of the Geracci. Also, this book gives the first authentic account of the murder of P.C. Gutteridge and the investigation which culminated in the arrest and execution of Kennedy and Browne.

The Daily Telegraph.—‘A series of fascinating stories. . . . Mr. George Dilnot has made for himself the position of acknowledged historian of the police systems of to-day. . . . He imparts a tone of freshness and authority to everything he writes.’

The Real Detective

By GEORGE DILNOT. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

Mr. Dilnot's new book describes the latest methods employed by the Detective Forces of England, the Continent and America.

Mr. Edgar Wallace writes:—‘George Dilnot is one of the few writers—the terribly few—who know Scotland Yard and the Yard methods inside out. If a man can be described as an authority on crime and the underworld—that man is George Dilnot.’

¶ For other books by George Dilnot, see the list of
THE FAMOUS TRIALS SERIES (p. 19).

GORDON. Crooks of the Underworld

By CHARLES GORDON. 5s. net.

Amazing revelations of London's criminal world by one who has produced entirely satisfactory credentials as a master-crook, making an income of £5,000 per annum. Inter alia, he deals with the activities of ‘Kemmy’ Grizzard and the true facts about the theft of the pearl necklace, valued at £136,000, belonging to Mr. Max Meyer.

John o' London's Weekly.—‘Cannot fail to grip the reader.’

MACKENZIE. World Famous Crimes

By F. A. MACKENZIE. Illustrated. Demy 8vo. 16s. net.

The author narrates the history of some of the most sensational crimes that have taken place in recent years on the Continent and in America—e.g., the Loeb-Leopold murder, the Stockholm Dynamite murder, the end of Rasputin, etc., etc.

The Law Journal.—‘An eminently readable book, well produced and illustrated.’

THE FAMOUS TRIALS SERIES

The Famous Trials Series

THE FAMOUS TRIALS SERIES

General Editor: GEORGE DILNOT.

Demy 8vo. Illustrated. 10s, 6d. net each volume.

T.P.'s Weekly.—‘A Fascinating Series.’

The Nation and Athenaeum.—‘These volumes are well-written, well-edited, well-printed, and well-bound.’

The Trial of Patrick Mahon. With an Introduction by EDGAR WALLACE.

Mr. Edgar Wallace skilfully analyses one of the most singular murder cases of recent years—the ‘love experiment’ of Emily Kaye, with its tragic ending at a lonely seaside bungalow, and the arrest of Mahon at Waterloo Station while collecting a bag which contained the grim evidence of his crime.

Mr. Wallace reveals several dramatic points in this case which have hitherto remained unpublished.

The Daily Express.—‘Mr. Edgar Wallace’s introduction is brilliant, and his summing-up is as capable, in its way, as the Judge’s.’

The Thaw Case. By F. A. MACKENZIE.

The great ‘unwritten law’ case of America. Harry Thaw, a young millionaire, shot Stanford White, the famous architect, on a New York roof-garden—the prelude to a series of legal battles which cost the Thaw family £160,000.

The Daily News.—‘The intricate story of the Thaw Case is well told by Mr. Mackenzie.’

The Peltzer Case. By GÉRARD HARRY.

This book relates one of the most bizarre of all Continental crimes—the mysterious murder of a young Jewish lawyer in the Rue de la Loi in Brussels.

The Sunday Times.—‘. . . A masterly record of one of the most tremendous and poignant stories in the history of the world.’

The Trial of Professor Webster. By GEORGE DILNOT.

In this case a Harvard professor was convicted of murder through a set of false teeth found in a laboratory furnace.

The Referee.—‘Of absorbing interest.’

The Murder of Maria Marten. By J. CURTIS.

This is a reprint of a curious contemporary account of the Mystery of the Red Barn. The modern reader will probably form his own opinion as to the motive for William Corder’s crime.

Punch.—‘Delicious. . . . This reprint is a “find.”’

The Trial of the Detectives. By GEORGE DILNOT.

The leading detectives at Scotland Yard were convicted of conspiracy with certain ‘master crooks,’ headed by the sinister cripple Harry Benson, who from his villa in the Isle of Wight directed the gigantic Turf swindles.

The Daily News.—‘One of the most astonishing detective stories in the literature of crime.’

T.P.'s Weekly.—‘The story, as exciting as any Mystery Novel, is the work of an able criminologist.’

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

The Case of Constance Kent. By JOHN RHODE.

In a village in Somerset a small boy was murdered in mysterious circumstances. Jonathan Whicher, greatest of Scotland Yard detectives, arrested the sister of the victim, but was forced by popular indignation to retire. Later the girl confessed.

The Sunday Times.—‘A Classic of Crime.’

Landru. By F. A. MACKENZIE.

Landru murdered ten women in order to get possession of their small savings. A most interesting feature of his trial is the cool effrontery with which he faced the Prosecuting Counsel and the Judge.

The Bookman.—‘Marvellous material, masterly presented.’

The Trial of Norman Thorne. By HELENA NORMANTON.

A full account of the curious case of the Crowborough Chicken Farm Murder, with some interesting speculations on the value of Expert Evidence.

The Observer.—‘Mrs. Normanton’s exceedingly able Introduction raises the doubts in this case to a higher rank than the jury was able to assign to them.’

The Trial of Allaway. By W. LLOYD WOODLAND.

A very interesting account of the famous Bournemouth murder, the difficult and protracted Police investigation and the dramatic trial.

The Daily Mail.—‘A clear and complete account of the trial of one of the worst criminals in our British annals.’

Jim the Penman. By GEORGE DILNOT.

Mr. Dilnot describes the industrious career of James Townsend Saward, who, while practising as a barrister, for thirty years or more was engaged in the organization of great criminal exploits.

The Bank of England Forgery. By GEORGE DILNOT.

Few criminal adventures have ever been so touched by the high lights of drama as the great fraud on the Bank of England by the brothers Bidwell.

The Trial of Alexander Campbell Mason.

By the Hon. H. FLETCHER-MOULTON.

The public interest aroused by the murder of a taxi driver in Brixton on a summer evening in 1923 for no ascertainable motive, was sustained by the extraordinary nature of the evidence, and culminated with the unexpected and unexplained grant of a reprieve.

The Trial of Herbert John Bennett. By EDGAR WALLACE.

In his Introduction to this account of the Yarmouth Beach Murder Mr. Edgar Wallace brings out the intense dramatic features of this crime and its detection. A young woman was found strangled with a bootlace and was ultimately identified by the laundry mark ‘599’ on her clothes. This led to the arrest of her husband, Herbert John Bennett, who was making love to another girl. It was by the slender clue of a gold chain which his wife had worn that his crime was brought home to him.

Pall Mall Series

THE PALL MALL SERIES. 2s. 6d. net each.

London Restaurants. By 'THE DINER-OUT.'

This treatise will provide delightful reading for all those who are interested in Good Food and Good Wine.

Paris Restaurants. By 'ROBERT-ROBERT.'

The author is a Parisian, and a Parisian regards his dinner even more seriously than an Englishman his first love-affair.

Through the Wine List. By 'THE DINER-OUT.'

'The Diner-Out' writes as an expert on a very fascinating subject. After buying this book, you will want to borrow a serviceable corkscrew.

Dining and Wining. By 'THE DINER-OUT.'

Here 'The Diner-Out' is in his element, for what he does not know about this congenial subject would be insufficient to cover a medium-sized postage stamp.

Feed the Brute! By MARJORIE SWIFT.

An unconventional book on Cookery by a writer who believes that man is only dangerous when he is badly fed.

Motoring for Women. By JOHN PRIOLEAU.

This little book will tell her how to look after that car, and how to drive it.

Holiday Angling. By W. G. CLIFFORD.

The author writes for those who like 'a bit of fishing.' He tells them how to get it, and also how to catch their fish.

Angling Jaunts and Jottings. By W. G. CLIFFORD.

The author is one who 'out of doors loves angling, and indoors loves books.' Both these enthusiasms are combined in this fascinating little volume.

The Woodcraft Trail. By MARCUS WOODWARD.

A delightful little book for boys and girls who love the country and an out-door life.

Week-End Walks Round London. By MARCUS WOODWARD.

This little book is a fund of information about London's lovely country-side, and will add to the enjoyment of your week-end walks.

Near London. By MARCUS WOODWARD, author of 'Country Contentments.' A little book about London's suburbs—Richmond, Twickenham, Kew, etc., etc.—describing their beauties and their historical and literary associations.

Teaching Iris Auction Bridge. By HUGH TUITE. Illustrated.

Iris could not play Bridge for minute apples—until she was taken in hand by the author of 'The Pottleton Bridge Club.' An amusing little book, full of sound instruction for the beginner.

Iris Plays Better Bridge. By HUGH TUITE. Illustrated.

Iris having now acquired the rudiments of Bridge is eager to learn its *finesse*s, and again she turns for help to the Sage.

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

Iris Learns Contract Bridge. By HUGH TUITE.

Iris is young enough to 'move with the times,' and she now applies to the author of 'The Pottleton Bridge Club' for instruction in the latest development of the game.

Woman be Beautiful! By CAPTAIN C. GLOSSOP, M.C.

The author is a well-known expert in physical culture, and in this book he shows how, by means of very simple exercises, girls can improve their appearance—and, incidentally, their health.

Fiction

Truth.—“Most of us know by this time that a Bles novel is pretty sure to be a good one.”

ALEXANDER (Ruth). The Human Element 7s. 6d. net.

The scene of this powerful story is laid in England and Patagonia.

Thirst 2s. 6d. net.

A romance with a startling situation . . .

ALLEN (Austen). Menace to Mrs. Kershaw 7s. 6d. net.

The author has adopted an entirely new method of presenting a mystery—and a very ingenious mystery it is! For why should a Bermondsey butcher buy live pike, live swans, and live geese?

ARNOLD BENNETT in The Evening Standard.—‘The book is very well written, and, notably by dialogue, well characterised.’

The Referee.—‘One of the best mysteries published this year.’

BAERLEIN (Henry). Mariposa on the Way 7s. 6d. net.

The adventures and amours of a young Spanish dancer . . .

The Evening News.—‘Those who meet “Mariposa on the Way” should congratulate themselves on their luck.’

BAILEY (Elliot). Mr. Benson's Business 2s. 6d. net.

A clever mystery story dealing with some strange personages and their still stranger methods. Incidentally, what was Mr. Benson's business?

The Campden Hill Mystery 3s. 6d. net.

What was the secret which connected Hilda Loring with that mysterious Chinaman?

The Maplethorpe Tangle 7s. 6d. net.

The mysterious murder of Sir Francis Maplethorpe is the prelude to many exciting incidents . . .

The Metcalfe Mystery 7s. 6d. net.

The strange disappearance of Mr. Metcalfe engaged the attention of detectives, professional and amateur . . .

The Secret Valley 7s. 6d. net.

Dr. Mattolini guards the secret of a lonely Cornish valley . . .

FICTION

'BEACHCOMBER.' Mr. Thake: His Life and Letters
7s. 6d. net.

The eccentric nobility of Mr. Oswald Thake and the devoted service of his valet, Saunders, are well known to the readers of The Daily Express.

MR. ARNOLD BENNETT says:—‘I am a convinced and constant admirer of “Beachcomber’s” humour.’

MR. GERALD GOULD says:—‘I have always admired “Beachcomber.”’

BENNETT (Rolf). The Quest of ‘The Laughing Girl’
2s. 6d. net.

Mr. William Lugg forsakes Respectability and sets off for the Marquesas Islands . . .

Round the Next Corner 3s. 6d. net.
A volume of stories in this well known writer's happiest vein.

BEZA (Marcus). Doda 5s. net.

A tale of Macedonia by a distinguished Roumanian writer.

The Evening Standard.—‘. . . “Doda” is little short of a masterpiece.’

BLACK (Dorothy). Idle Women 7s. 6d. net.

A very striking novel of life in Burma.

The Loveliest Thing 3s. 6d. net.

How Romance comes to those who seek it . . .

BOLAND (June). Kirsty at the Manse 7s. 6d. net.

A pretty young Canadian girl finds herself in somewhat austere surroundings . . .

BRIGHTMAN (Virginia). Sonny: The Story of a Dog 3s. 6d. net.

Are you fond of dogs? If so, you will enjoy this story of Sonny, the Airedale pup.

BROOME (Adam). The Oxford Murders 7s. 6d. net.

Murder in Wellington Square! Murder in the Turl! Murder in Port Meadow! What was the mystery of these strange crimes?

The Porro Palaver 7s. 6d. net.

A thrilling mystery story of the West Coast of Africa.

The Morning Post.—‘. . . A first-rate and exciting tale.’

BUCKLEY (F. R.) Billy Van 3s. 6d. net.

A splendid Wild West story. Its hero, Billy Van Alen, might be described with precision as ‘some lad.’

The Blithe Sheriff 3s. 6d. net.

Old Bill Garfield had his own way of preserving Law and Order in a lawless land . . .

Re-Enter the Blithe Sheriff. 3s. 6d. net.

More amusing stories of Old Bill Garfield, the Texas Sheriff . . .

Joan of the Ranch 2s. 6d. net.

When a big American Trust wants a thing it usually gets it; but Joan was quite determined to keep her ranch ‘Circle R.’ . . .

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

ČAPEK (Karel). Krakatit

7s. 6d. net.

The story of an explosive and its inventor Prokop, whose adventures only begin when he is explosively propelled out of his laboratory.

Times Literary Supplement.—“Krakatit” excites extreme interest.’

CARR (Ray). Love in Burma

7s. 6d. net.

A striking novel of life in a Burmese ‘up-country’ station.

CAYWOOD (Mark). Paradise Island

7s. 6d. net.

The exciting (and romantic) adventures of a Sydney stockbroker in Southern seas . . .

CRAWFORD (F. Marion). The White Sister

2s. 6d. net.

The first popular edition of this great novel.

DAY (Holman). The Stubborn Fight

2s. 6d. net.

A story of the North Woods, the great timber lands of America, and the struggle between the saw-mill owners and a tyrannical Trust Company.

DILNOT (Geo:ge). The Black Ace

7s. 6d. net.

A thrilling Mystery Story by George Dilnot, of whom the great Edgar Wallace says: ‘If any man can be described as an authority on Crime and the Underworld, that man is George Dilnot.’

The Daily News.—‘Mr. Dilnot’s “Black Ace” is certainly a trump.’

The Crook's Game

2s. 6d. net.

Scotland Yard defeats the schemes of Mr. Solomon Stern, otherwise known as ‘The Cat’ . . .

The Hatpin Murder

2s. 6d. net.

Jimmie Silverdale investigates a mysterious murder.

The Lazy Detective

2s. 6d. net.

Larry Hughes dominated London’s ‘underworld’ . . .

FELLOM (James). The Rider of the Mohave

2s. 6d. net.

A tale of stirring adventure in the great American desert . . .

GRIERSON (Francis D.) The Blue Bucket Mystery

7s. 6d. net.

Professor Wells investigates a very curious affair.

The Smiling Death

2s. 6d. net.

Introduces Mr. Gregory Marle, second-hand bookseller—and London’s master criminal . . .

The White Camellia

7s. 6d. net.

Another triumph of detection for Professor Wells . . .

The Zoo Murder

3s. 6d. net.

Professor Wells undertakes the investigation of a very sinister crime . . .

HARRISON (E. J.) Rasprava 2s. 6d. net.
When young Owston went to Petersburg he knew very little about international politics ; but his employer, Mr. Ponsonby, knew a great deal . . .

HILLS (Margaret). Fool's Weaving 7s. 6d. net.
A 'First Novel' with a dramatic and poignant situation . . .

HOLSTIUS (Edward). Gold Dust (4th Edition.) 7s. 6d. net.
Of this fine novel (now in its Fourth Edition) The Referee says that it shows 'A most remarkable grasp of the psychology of the modern woman.'
RICHARD KING in The Tatler.—'This remarkably clever First Novel.'

HUMMEL (George F.) A Good Man 7s. 6d. net.
A satirical novel, describing a certain type of American business man.

INMAN (Philip). The Human Touch (3rd Edition.) 3s. 6d. net.
Stories, grave and gay, of life in a big London hospital . . .
Dr. J. C. CARLILE, D.D., C.B.E., in The Church Times.—'A fine tonic for those who know the struggle and stress of existence and are yet very susceptible to the human touch.'

KERRUISH (Jessie Douglas). The Hull of Coins 7s. 6d. net.
A story of love and buried treasure by the author of 'Miss Haroun-al-Raschid',
Times Literary Supplement.—'A capital story.'

KING (Frank). The Ghoul 3s. 6d. net.
A grim mystery of the Yorkshire Moors.

Terror at Staups House 7s. 6d. net.
Who killed the old miser, Amos Brankard—and how?

McDOUGALL (Grace). The Golden Bowl 7s. 6d. net.
The story of a great love and a woman's destiny . . .

MCLEAN (David). The Magnet 7s. 6d. net.
It was in Hawaii that Bill Rymer first came under the strange influence of an Occult Power . . .

METCALFE (C.) Gallows Tor 7s. 6d. net.
A powerful and beautiful romance, of which the scene is laid in the West Country of England.

MILLE (Pierre). The Monarch 6s. net.
An extravaganza in the style of Tartarin de Tarascon, portraying a portentous specimen of the French Méridional.

MILLER (E. Y.) The Mark of Yekel 3s. 6d. net.
The strange mystery of Peter Semenoff, the Lord of Yekel . . .

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

MILLS YOUNG (F. E.)	Ailsa	2s. 6d. net.
The story of a very charming girl who makes the Stage her career.
T.P.'s Weekly. —‘Few living novelists can tell a story better than F. E. Mills Young.’
The Broken Silence		2s. 6d. net.
A tale of South Africa and the life's secret of Dumb Yelland of the Goed Koop Winkel . . .
The Future		2s. 6d. net.
Piers Gresham goes to South Africa after an unhappy love affair in England, eager to start life anew. He becomes a farmer at Toekomsi (‘The Future’) —and then begins a poignant drama.
The Inheritance		2s. 6d. net.
The romance of Mr. Chaffrey's strange Will—and its still stranger consequences . . .
The Jealous Keys		2s. 6d. net.
The life-story of Ursula Vane and her struggle against the power of circumstance.
The Romantic Tragedy		2s. 6d. net.
A fine novel of the diamond diggings in South Africa.
The White Locust		2s. 6d. net.
The story of Anna Bamburgher's jealousy . . .
MORRIS (W. F.)	Bretherton	(4th Large Edition.) 7s. 6d. net.
This fine novel is not only a vivid picture of life in the trenches, of war-time London, and of a German Prison Camp; but also running through the story is the mystery of Bretherton, English Captain and German General.
The Daily Mail. —‘A fine story which challenges comparison with any novel of the Great War that has appeared in any country.’
MR. E. B. OSBORN in The Morning Post .—‘One of the best of the few English war novels. And I do not expect anything much better.’
MR. HORACE THOROGOOD in The Evening Standard .—‘A novel to be applauded.’
MURRAY (Sinclair).	The Crucible	2s. 6d. net.
Sylvia fled in terror from the strange mystery of that lonely house at Brookwood . . .
NOROC (Josephine de).	Colette	7s. 6d. net.
Colette's adventures in the beau monde of the Roumanian capital form a story of an unusual kind.
OSBORN (Stanley R.).	Palmyra's Pirates	7s. 6d. net.
A tale of the South Seas relating the adventures of Palmyra, her two suitors, and that enterprising stow-away, Mr. Ponapé Burke . . .

PARSONS (Marion). A Daughter of the Dawn	2s. 6d. net.
A story of Hawaii, Nature's fairyland of the South Seas . . .
PERRI (Francesco). The Other Land	7s. 6d. net.
The Mondadori Prize was awarded to this fine novel of Italian peasant life.
RHODE (John).
Times Literary Supplement .—‘Of those who write detective fiction John Rhode stands in the front rank. He deserves the thanks and appreciation of those who have come to rely upon his name.’
A. S. F.	2s. 6d. net.
The curious episode of the Folangue pottery gave Frank Clements a clue to the mystery . . .
T.P.'s Weekly .—‘Sherlock Holmes would have found “The Messenger” a more sinister antagonist than the redoubtable Moriarty.’
The Alarm	2s. 6d. net.
Jim Morrison was the happy possessor of independent means and a love of adventure—so perhaps it was inevitable that he should meet Don Ramon . . .
The Spectator .—‘A really thrilling story.’
The Davidson Case	7s. 6d. net.
Even the astute mind of Dr. Priestley was baffled by the problem presented by the murder of Sir Hector Davidson . . .
Truth .—‘Even better than “The House on Tolland Ridge,” it is indeed a first-rate mystery story.’
The Double Florin	2s. 6d. net.
Dr. Quixano unmasks a great conspiracy . . .
Punch .—‘Original and exciting.’
The Ellerby Case	2s. 6d. net.
The mysterious murder of Sir Noel Ellerby attracts the attention of Dr. Priestley.
Punch .—‘Ingeniously worked out, and vibrant with excitement.’
Dr. Priestley's Quest	2s. 6d. net.
The strange mystery of the Heatherdale brothers and the SS. Brackenthorpe Manor was solved in a very unexpected fashion . . .
Times Literary Supplement .—‘An ingenious plot.’
The House on Tolland Ridge	7s. 6d. net.
John o' London's Weekly .—‘A most ingenious mystery story by a writer who “goes from strength to strength.”’
The Morning Post .—‘A first-rate story.’
The Daily News .—‘So well constructed that it would be unsafe to skip a single page.’

GEOFFREY BLESS'S CATALOGUE

Mademoiselle from Armentières	2s. 6d. net.
The novel of the film, a romance of the Great War.
The Murders in Praed Street	2s. 6d. net.
What was the explanation of this sinister series of crimes?
T.P.'s Weekly .—‘The best detective “thriller” of this season.’
The Paddington Mystery	2s. 6d. net.
Dr. Priestley possessed peculiar powers for detecting crime . . .
The Referee .—“One of the best tales of its kind.”
Tragedy at ‘The Unicorn’	2s. 6d. net.
Times Literary Supplement .—‘Might reasonably be considered the best mystery story of 1928.’
RIDDELL (Florence). Can Women Forget?	7s. 6d. net.
War hurts women the most . . .
The Referee .—‘A fine earnest novel.’
Castles in Kenya	7s. 6d. net.
A tale of love and disillusionment on a lonely Kenya Farm.
The Bookman .—‘A well-told story, with well-drawn characters and first-hand descriptions.’
Dream Island	2s. 6d. net.
A romance of Southern Seas . . .
The Daily Chronicle .—‘A powerful South Sea story.’
The House of the Dey	7s. 6d. net.
A fine romance of Algiers.
Kismet in Kenya	2s. 6d. net.
James Stanhope's curious will—and its sequel . . .
The Scotsman .—‘Florence Riddell writes with charm and insight, and has a keen sense of colour and atmosphere.’
The Misty Pathway	2s. 6d. net.
Richenda wins £5,000, and goes to Africa in search of romance.
John o' London's Weekly .—‘Florence Riddell displays considerable powers as a descriptive artist.’
What Women Fear	2s. 6d. net.
Can a woman keep the love of a husband younger than herself?
The Referee .—‘The problem is handled with delicate feeling and artistic skill.’
RITCHIE (Robert W.) Deep Furrows	7s. 6d. net.
A fine tale of a man's fall and regeneration. The scene of the book is California.
ROGERS (Lillian). The Royal Cravatts	7s. 6d. net.
Times Literary Supplement .—‘An exceptionally thoughtful and sympathetic study of a family of Russian Jews in New York.’

The Shadow

7s. 6d. net.

An intense and moving study of the effect of a father's curious personality on the life of his daughter.

MRS. M. A. HAMILTON from 2 L.O.—'Behind the book one feels the personality of an interesting writer.'

SANDY (Isabelle). Andorra

7s. 6d. net.

Of this tale of peasant life in the Pyrenees, Rudyard Kipling wrote: 'I have read "Andorra"—and more than once.'

The Morning Post.—'"Andorra" is exquisite, a fine jewel, reflecting the lights and shades of humanity.'

Wild Heart

7s. 6d. net.

A tale of the Pyrenees. Venturette, a lovely and impetuous girl, is marked by blood-guilt for a murder of which she is innocent . . .

Yorkshire Observer.—'A delightful book.'

SAVAGE (Juanita). The City of Desire

2s. 6d. net.

A tale of love and adventure in Mexico . . .

Don Luis

2s. 6d. net.

To Don Luis women were but toys—and then he met Kathleen . . .

Golden Passion

7s. 6d. net.

A romance of Spain.

Passion Island

2s. 6d. net.

A romance of the Southern Seas and a girl's peril . . .

Spanish Love

2s. 6d. net.

Dolores was a born coquette, proud of her power over men's hearts . . .

SCOTT (George). Valentina

7s. 6d. net.

The Soviets of Southern Russia were dominated by a young girl of great beauty, with a peculiarly long record of crime and violence . . .

SHANNON (Alastair). The Black Scorpion

2s. 6d. net.

Jack Calthorpe, of the Madras Criminal Investigation Department, tracks down the authors of a very sinister conspiracy . . .

STEEEN (Marguerite). The Gilt Cage

(3rd Edition.) 7s. 6d. net.

A tale of a small 'Set' in London Society . . .

Duel in the Dark

7s. 6d. net.

This novel has for its theme the conflict between Youth and Age, and for its background the curious world of the theatre . . .

GEOFFREY BLES'S CATALOGUE

STEVENSON (Sylvia). The Tight-Rope 7s. 6d. net.
This novel presents the problem which confronts a girl who possesses both beauty and ambition.

SULLIVAN (Alan). The Jade God 2s. 6d. net.
A Burmese Idol casts its sinister influence over an old-world English house . . .

SURTEES (R. S.) Handley Cross 2s. 6d. net.
The first popular edition of this famous masterpiece of English humour—the epic of John Jorrocks, M.F.H.

Mr. Sponge's Sporting Tour 2s. 6d. net.
The complete text of this famous classic, with all the original line illustrations by John Leech.

SYRETT (Netta). Portrait of a Rebel 7s. 6d. net.
A novel of mid-Victorian times by the author of 'The Victorians.'

The Shuttles of Eternity 7s. 6d. net.
A novel with a psychic interest by the well-known author of 'Julian Carroll.'

THOMSON (C. Campbell). The Incredible Island 7s. 6d. net.
A story of love and political intrigue in the small Greek island of Danylos . . .

TOLSTOY (Leo). Anissia: The Story of a Russian Peasant 5s. net.
The story is realistic—but its realism is tempered with Tolstoy's immense sympathy with human suffering.
Times Literary Supplement.—'A little masterpiece.'

VANCE (Louis Joseph). The Dark Power 2s. 6d. net.
The story of a great sin and a great remorse, and the manifestation of an Occult Power.

The Dead Ride Hard 7s. 6d. net.
A dramatic story of post-war Hungary and the Bela Kun revolution.

Lip Service 7s. 6d. net.
A tale of modern society in New York.

White Fire 2s. 6d. net.
By a stroke of Fate, Tabor Wynne, a wealthy lawyer, is plunged into new and very strange surroundings . . .

VANE (Derek). The Scar 2s. 6d. net.
Mr. Saxham had a curious passion for Persian cats and intrigue . . .

WAKEFIELD (H. R.) Old Man's Beard 7s. 6d. net.
Weird and uncanny Ghost Stories by the author of 'They Return at Evening.'

FICTION

WASHBURN (Claude C.) A Florentine Comedy 7s. 6d. net.

A delightful novel of modern society in Florence.

The Bookman.—‘It is impossible to recommend this book too highly—a clever study in emotions, a delicately humorous picture, and an absorbing story.’

WEAVER (Raymond). Black Valley 7s. 6d. net.

This remarkable first novel portrays a little group of American missionaries in a Japanese town, and their reaction to a very strange episode.

Truth.—‘As striking and original a story as I have read for some time.’

WEEKES (R. K.) Sea Nymph 7s. 6d. net.

A charming and sympathetic romance of Spanish lands.

T.P.'s Weekly.—‘A book of distinction, written in a poetic style through which emotion subtly shines.’

WILLIAMSON (Henry). The Patriot's Progress 10s. 6d. net.

A new story of the War by the author of ‘Tarka the Otter,’ awarded the Hawthornden Prize. The book is illustrated with wood-cuts by WILLIAM KERMODE.

NOTES

Jan. 10 at 7.30 p.m. WATKINSON (Chairman) A Memorial Concert in aid of the Fund for the Relief of Victims of German Aggression. A selection of good and interesting pieces will be performed by hundreds of the leading musical artists of that period.

SULLIVAN (Chairman). The last note

Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. 100 seats at 5/- each. WATKINSON (Chairman) TRAVELLING
ENTERTAINMENT necessary to carry off a meeting here will be arranged and any other expenses incurred will be met by the Fund for the Relief of Victims of German Aggression. This will be a benefit concert.

Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. WATKINSON (Chairman) A Memorial Concert in aid of the Fund for the Relief of Victims of German Aggression. The Fund for the Relief of Victims of German Aggression will be the sole beneficiary.

Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. WATKINSON (Chairman) A Memorial Concert in aid of the Fund for the Relief of Victims of German Aggression. The Fund for the Relief of Victims of German Aggression will be the sole beneficiary.

At the Library
look for the Eagle Books!

GEOFFREY BLES, 22 SUFFOLK ST., S.W.1.

TOLSTOY'S Anna Karenina. The Story of a Russian Family. A new and the first unabridged edition in English to represent Tolstoy's remarkable epic of human suffering.

The War and Peace. A full unabridged edition.

VISIT THESE BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY.
The story of genius and a great nation, and the wonderful life of Great Russia.

The Last Mile.
A family story of post-war Hungary and its tragic fate written by

Liszt Ferencz.
A Hungarian novelist in New York.

Wise Fox.
The life of Mrs. Tilly Fleischman, a leading Jewish author who has now settled abroad.

Many Roads to the Stars.
True stories of career paths for Frenchmen and Englishmen.

GARFIELD'S R. O. P. Book Club.
With his regular Club Leader by the side of other books in Maurice Garfield's

